I. O. O. F. Excursion.-Although the weather, yesterday morning, was so very un propitious when the excursionist left here, before the train arrived at Culpeper the suu and clouds gave evidence of suitable weather for the uniformed Patriarch and others from Washing ton, Potomac and Sarepta Lodges, and Marley Encampment of this city, and Chairty Lodge Monday night, and were met at the depot by terrific storm of wind, rain, lightning and thunder, and the brothers at Cuipeper were quite Washington the brothers were escorded to Hill's Hall, where an address of welcome was delivered by Cal. James Cochran, Chief Marshal. It was foreible, eloquent and impressive, assuring all the visiters that the "latch strings" of all the citizens were banging on the outside. A suitable and hapry response was given by W. R. MeLean, P. G. M. The brothers were then dismissed for an hour, when they were eschied spread in the true old Virginia barbeous style. brockers and other visitors were at their case Western mixed spot and June 58; last haif until there cleics, when the order was given, June (82; July (91; Aug 31; steamer 551:50. After marching through various streets it arrived again at the grove, where commodious stands had been erceted for the speakers and the music. The expresses were opened a very elequent address from Col. James Cochran, P. C. The opening was rendered in fine style by a portion of the uniformed Patriarchs. The Rev. J. G. Minnigerode then invoked the manner. Grand Master Benson was then introduced and made a brief but appropriate address. He was followed by W. R. McLean, of Washington, in a plain, practical address, which could not fail to reach the hearts of his hearers. The next speaker was J. F. Havenner, of Washington, who held his hearers spell bound during the delivery of a beautiful, chaste and interesting address. Judge John T. Gool rick, of Myrile Lodge, was next introduced, and entertained the assemblage in a few brief and elequent remarks. The next and last brother introduced was Mr. Hugh Latham, of Alexandria, who made a few remarks and then proceeded to read a poem written by J. F. Havenner, of Washington, entitled, "The Two Pictures and the Legion," which was well received by those present. The speaking was interspersed with appropriate pieces of music. We cannot close this report without allading to the extraordinary efforts displayed and the zeal and devotion manifested by the ladies in mak ing the efforts of the brothers a decided success. Last night a festival was held in the lower room of Hill's Hall, and charades, &2., in the upper room. Both were very successful. The room where the festival was given was arranged and decorated equal to anything of the kind ever seen by the writer. For beauty of design and execution of finish the tout ensemble would have borne the criticism of the most fastidious. THE FRUIT GROWERS' EXCURSION .- We mentioned yesterday the opening of the excursion of the l'otomice Fruit Growers' Association of the Dis riet of Columbia, in conjune tion with the Woodlawn Farmers' Club of Pairfax County on the steamer Mary Washington. The steamer stopped at Fort Foote, Collingwood, and partly cloudy or cloudy weather, with rain Fort Washington, Mount Verson and Glymount, where a number of farmers residing at those places embarked. A stay at the latter place of half an hour was made, during which the party partook of dinner in regular picoic style on the boat. The head of the steamer was turned homeward on the conclusion of the dinner, and the meeting was called to order by ceremonies. When the train arrived at 11:40 Mr. C. Gilliogham, President of the Fruit Culpeper Lodge, No. 142, was at the depot to Growers' Society. Professor Brainard delivreceive the visiting brothers, consisting of the ered an essay on "The toad as the fruit growers' friend." The subject was discussed by Dr. Snodgrass, C. F. Needham, Dr. Gross, Dr. How and Dr. Breed, Colonel Pitts and E. of Warrenton. Later in the day Myrtle Lodge from Fredericksburg arrived and joined in the festivities. Grand Master, Charles P. THE STOUX IN BRITISH AMERICA. - From time States authorities and the Indians have been go ing on, we have expressed our belief that the complications on the other side the line would be likely to place us in the position of having to control a number of the bastile Indians whom the exigencies of their case and their own robal lious conduct had driven across the lines. Sevoral small bands camo across a short timo ago while others, emissaries of Sitting Bull, came over and threatened our own peaceful Indians if they would not go over and help them in their con-flict with the Americans. We find from Fort Walsh advices that early in March Major Walsh came across a camp of the Yankton Indians about 120 miles west of the fort. He found the head chief of the Tetens and fifty-seven lodges crossing the line and making a camp three-quarters of a mile north of the line and close to the Yankton camp. He at once put himself in communication with the Teton and Yankton chiefs, and a council was held at which he was informed that the Indians had been told by their fathers they would find peace in the land of the British. They had not slept sound for years and were anxious to find a place where they could lie down and feel safe. They were tired of living in such a disturbed state. Being asked as to their ultimate intentions the; atir:ned that they had no idea of recrossing the lines to make war, and said they would obey the law in this regard. This particularly refers to the Tetons. As to the Yanktons, the whole of their the other side of Fort Peck. The Tetons claim that the Sioux are British Indians; that sixtythe Americans they could go further north into British territory again. They could not tell British for fighting the Americans, with whom they had never made peace. The presence of so considerable a body of "hostiles" among us is cerainly calculated to inspire uneasiness, but Maj. Walsh believes that the chiefs and old men will do their best to keep in their places those who may be of a restless temperament, and it is more than possible that, like the Minnesota Sioux, who took up their abode with up they may become as quiet as any of the rest of our wards. Although we may not desire their advent, it is likely we shall have to make the best we can out of it .- Montreal Herald.
